

Analyze DI Core License

For police officers working independently with processing and reviewing media files as part of their work.

CASE EXAMPLE:

A local police station with four police officers who work independently with processing and reviewing media files as part of their work, but not as their main task. Analyze DI Core satisfies their need for a powerful tool for straightforward image and video review and analysis.

However, Analyze DI Core is designed for users who work individually on cases without the need to share casework or intelligence within the platform.
